

ABSTRACT

A system and method for facilitating a clinical intervention involving a healthcare provider and a patient is disclosed. A window enables healthcare personnel to access a plurality of reference codes for documenting the clinical intervention. Each of the plurality of reference codes are pre-defined by a healthcare facility and include at least one parameter. Healthcare personnel document the clinical intervention by selecting among the pre-defined parameters to characterize the clinical intervention.

(190127)